

WORKSHOP

Transmission of academic values in Asian Studies

25 & 26 June 2009, Canberra

CALL FOR PAPERS

Deadline is 27 February 2009: early submission appreciated

THEMES:

- 📖 markers of scholarly excellence
- 📖 markers of social significance
- 📖 ethical behaviour in research
- 📖 engagement with political and social affairs
- 📖 inter-generational relations
- 📖 styles of interaction between researchers and postgraduate students
- 📖 transmission of values
- 📖 recruiting successive generations of scholars
- 📖 differences between Australia and other countries

Views of scholars from all life-stages are sought.

www.aust-neth.net/workshop.php

Contact: helen.mcmartin@anu.edu.au

CONFIRMED SPEAKERS:

- Dr Michael Barr, Flinders University
- Dr Matthew Ciolek, The Australian National University
- Dr Freek Colombijn, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam
- Professor Howard Dick, University of Melbourne
- Ms Thushara Dibley, University of Sydney
- Dr Michele Ford, University of Sydney
- Dr Niv Horesh, University of New South Wales
- Professor Anthony Reid, National University of Singapore
- Professor James C Scott, Yale University
- Professor Shamsul AB, Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia
- Dr Andrew Walker, The Australian National University

WORKSHOP CONVENOR:

Dr Robert Cribb, robert.cribb@anu.edu.au

SUPPORTING ORGANISATIONS:

- The Australia-Netherlands Research Collaboration
- ARC Asia Pacific Futures Research Network
- The Australian National University
- Australian Academy of Humanities

PAPERS:

Asian Studies researchers from every career stage (postgraduate to post-retirement) are invited to submit proposals for a brief presentation (15-20 mins) on one or more themes of the workshop, summarized on one A4 page.

Speakers will receive cost of air travel within Australia and accommodation for workshop.

